Response to Communication

1. Applicant's appeal brief of June 27, 2003 is acknowledged and entered as paper number 11.
2. After careful review of the office action of September 23, 2002, the examiner has determined that the 35 U.S.C. 251 rejection is flawed. Thus, this case is being re-opened for prosecution. Claims 1 and 4-28 have been determined to be in condition for allowance. The status of claims 29 and 30 is as follows.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 29 and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kah, Jr. (US Patent 4,272,024).

The patent to Kah, Jr. shows a sprinkler comprising:

- a riser assembly;
- a rotatable nozzle housing having a flow passage formed therein for discharging water;
- a drive shaft 104 extending from the riser assembly and connected to the nozzle housing for rotating the nozzle housing relative to the riser assembly;
- a nozzle plate 150 including a selected orifice therein to be aligned with the flow passage for discharging water from the rotatable nozzle housing according to a desired flow characteristic, wherein the nozzle plate is fitted into a complementary opening formed in the rotatable nozzle housing to intersect the flow passage to force a pressurized water flow through the selected orifice to provide a desired precipitation rate for a desired arc of coverage.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1 and 4-28 are allowed.
